San Rafael - - What's Cooking, a local business that offers cooking classes and birthday parties for children, is offering a summer class series with a twist. Founder, Michelle Stern, who was a day camper at the Marin Humane Society as a child, has returned as a guest teacher for camp this summer. She is facilitating hands-on cooking classes with campers to create healthy and delicious treats for the shelter's dogs, cats, birds and horses! Students learn how to use a variety of cooking tools as they create recipes for Humane Society's residents. Families can learn more about What's Cooking by visiting: www.whatscooking.info or by calling (415) 342-4353.

Remaining What's Cooking dates at the Marin Humane Society for the 2006 Summer:

- Friday August 4, from 10:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.
- Friday August 18, from 10:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.
- Friday August 25, from 10:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.

Instructor: Michelle Stern is the founder of What's Cooking, a local business that teaches cooking classes to children (www.whatscooking.info). What's Cooking helps children to learn how to work safely in the kitchen so they can spend quality time with their families. Older children benefit from learning how to work more independently and improve their self-confidence.

Michelle is also an Independent Future Sales Director with The Pampered Chef, a direct sales company specializing in high quality cooking tools. (www.pamperedchef.biz/michellestern)
